Christina and Alex – Attached is an index of RCRA documents. Can you indicate which documents we should ask for? Maybe highlight them or create a new tab with a list. For instance there are public/community notices and fact sheets; I don't think those are necessary.

Hi Amanda and Steve – just to confirm that this is the Site ID for the facility in question:

→There are 10 listed in RCRAInfo in Los Angeles County, but only one in Vernon)

→Also, ERRC shows records for several Site IDs.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL rcrainfo.epa.gov/rcrainfoprod/action/secured/search/handler-search-results. The page displays a table of search results for handlers. The table has columns for Handler ID, Handler Name, Address, City, State, County, and Active Status. Leslie -

I will grant you access to my Exide folder on the server so you can see all the documents we have including part of the Closure plan and the Title V. You will need to follow the pdf with the links to the actual closure plan as the entire plan is very large. The GW report is on our website.

Leslie, we are unlikely to have any records that are not on DTSC's envirostor. Our work with VERT over the last 18 months was focused on bring down buildings. We never did any environmental assessment work. I think we might have the latest GW monitoring report as that was a task given to VERT.

The other place we keep records is in your ERRC system (We are currently transitioning our records management to SEMS). We have contractors that input records to ERRC and Jan Collins can hook you up with the appropriate contractor to give you help.

Thanks.

Hi Steve – Site Assessment is currently gathering records/documents for Exide as part of our records review. Are there EPA-related RCRA documents available, and can you share that with me? Or, if the records are available to download from a link or website, also let me know. Thanks!
